A photograph of a busy city street covered in snow. In the foreground, a white bus is partially visible on the right. A black car is stopped in the middle of the street. Several pedestrians are walking across the snow-covered sidewalks and crossing the street. In the background, more cars are visible, and a white van is parked on the right side of the road. Traffic lights and street signs are visible along the sidewalks. The overall scene depicts a winter day in an urban environment.
